

Subsidy on postal services In rural areas

4166. SHRI K. M. KHAN: Will the Minister of COMMUNICATIONS be pleased to state:

(a) what are the reasons for lower targeted pace of expansion of Postal network especially in rural areas;

(b) the details of physical targets set for and achievement made for the expansion of postal network in rural areas during the last three years, till date, year-wise;

(c) whether subsidy on postal services is provided particularly in rural areas; and

(d) if so, the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF COMMUNICATIONS (SHRI TAPAN SIKDAR): (a) and (b) Postal services of daily delivery and collection of mails have been provided to all the rural areas throughout the length and breadth of the country. In addition sale of stamps and stationery is also done through the delivery agents when they go out for deliveries in those areas where there is no post office. Our network coverage, the number of post offices we have and average area and population a post office serves in India fair well when compared to the postal networks of most of the countries including the developed ones. In addition, we have evolved a new planned scheme i.e. Panchayat Sanchar Sewa Yojana which seeks to make use of the third tier of administration for expansion of postal network in the rural areas. Our network and our spread of services across the rural areas are thus satisfactory. The post offices are opened in rural areas on norm based
